HP Notebook Computer and Mobile Workstation Battery Safety Recall and Replacement Program

Dear Valued HP Customer,

In cooperation with various government regulatory agencies HP has announced a worldwide voluntary safety recall and replacement program for certain notebook and mobile workstation batteries.

The potentially affected batteries were shipped with certain HP notebooks and mobile workstations sold worldwide from December 2015 through December 2017. These batteries were also sold as accessories or provided as replacements through HP or an authorized HP Service Provider.

HP's primary concern is for the safety of our customers. The batteries have the potential to overheat, posing a fire and burn hazard to customers. For this reason, it is extremely important for customers to check whether their batteries are affected.

HP has developed a BIOS update for customers whose battery is affected by the recall program that will put the battery into "Battery Safety Mode". Customers should discontinue use of batteries affected by this program immediately by placing them in Battery Safety Mode. Once the battery is put into Safety Mode, customers may continue to safely use their notebook or mobile workstation by connecting to an HP power adaptor.

HP will provide onsite battery replacement services by an authorized technician for each battery affected by this recall program at no cost.

Note:

Not all batteries in all products listed below are affected. If the validation process indicates that a battery is not affected, it may continue to be used, and a replacement is not necessary.

How to determine if your Batteries may be affected

Additionally, these batteries may have been sold as accessories or replacement batteries for the HP ZBook Studio G4 Mobile Workstation or for any of the products listed above.

Validating potentially affected batteries

HP's primary concern is for the safety of our customers. HP encourages you to check the batteries of any of the potentially affected notebook computers and mobile workstations listed above, plus any batteries purchased as accessories or spares, or provided as replacements through HP or an authorized Service Provider.

HP has put in place a process to facilitate battery validation and replacement ordering for customers with 5 or more potentially affected batteries to validate.

HP has developed a bulk battery validation utility which can be deployed by each individual customer, on the customer's installed base, to identify notebook and mobile workstation serial numbers and battery component numbers. The regional Bulk Process teams will then verify the data and process the bulk order for battery replacements as applicable. All batteries affected by this recall will be replaced at no cost to you.

Please note that the Bulk Process will be managed in English only.

For more details on the BIOS update to put the battery in Battery Safety Mode, guidance through the bulk battery validation and replacement ordering process, and to obtain the battery validation utility, please contact the relevant regional Bulk Process team at one of the following email addresses:

- For Europe, Middle East and Africa: EMEABulkBatteryRecall@hp.com
- For Asia Pacific: APJBulkBatteryRecall@hp.com
- For North America: NABulkBatteryRecall@hp.com
- For Latin America: LABulkBatteryRecall@hp.com

Note:

The validation process may indicate a battery is not affected. Less than 3% of the potentially affected products sold during this time period include batteries that are affected by this safety recall.
